Notes From the Office

An important day: Thursday, September 6th is the last day to drop or add a class, pay tuition, turn in financial guarantees, and submit proof of insurance or immunizations. If you miss this deadline, go to the ELI Main Office in Matherly 223 immediately. If you don't do this, you could be removed from classes or charged a late fee!

Dropping a Class or Withdrawing: Students who drop a class (including electives) or withdraw from the ELI after the drop/add deadline on Thursday, September 6th, will not receive a refund or credit for their courses and their transcript will have a grade of W (withdraw).

Elective Classes: This semester, the ELI is offering two extra elective classes. IELTS test preparation classes meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays. You must be in R/W 40 or higher to take these classes. A Pronunciation class meets on Mondays and Wednesdays. You must be in L/S 30 or higher to take this class. Talk to Patricia or Tiffany in the office by Thursday, September 6th to add one of these classes.

Office Etiquette: When you visit the office, it’s important to use good manners. If the office is crowded, wait for your turn to talk. If everyone is patient and polite, the office staff can help you more quickly.

myELI: When you applied to the ELI, you received your Login name and Password for my.elufl.edu. On this website, you can see important announcements, check your schedule, monitor your attendance, upload important documents, and many other things! If you have problems with the website, come to the ELI office for help.

Feeling Sick?: If you are sick, let your teachers know by email so that they can decide how to help you. If you are going to be absent for 5 or more days, please let the office know. Finally, if you need help making an appointment with a doctor, talk to Victoria Shelly in the main office.

GATORSAFE App

All ELI students should download the GATORSAFE app. The GATORSAFE app is UF's way to improve the safety and security of everyone on campus. With the app, you will receive information about emergencies. You can use the app to contact the police if you need help.

Your teachers love to see your writing, but more than that, we like to see the writing in print. Every semester, we take your writing and publish it in Student Voices. Past submissions have included paragraphs, essays, creative stories, recipes, letters, obituaries, poetry, creative stories, class projects, and other interesting works on a variety of topics.

I encourage you to submit anything of your work that you wish to see published. It can be from any class or something you have written on your own, but ask your teachers for help editing! You can email it to me (tomdolce@ufl.edu) or to your teacher. Please include your name and class on your submission. The deadline for submissions is Thursday, November 1st.

I. Thomas Dolce, would like to greet you as your ELI Weekly Editor. You will receive the Weekly each week during your Reading/Writing class.

The ELI Weekly gives you important news about what is happening at the ELI. The Weekly also answers your questions. If you have questions about American culture or people, let me know! Did you hear an English expression that you don’t know? Ask the ELI Weekly! You may ask me in person in my office (MAT 220B), email me at tomdolce@ufl.edu, or put them in my mailbox (ELI Office, MAT 223, box marked Dolce) anytime the office is open.

Expression of the Week: In the CIP Insider, you saw two underlined phrases.

Phrase One: what’s going on

Your place to find out what is going on with the Cultural Immersion Program!

What’s going on is a question to ask someone what is happening. Also, we can use What’s going on? as a greeting.

Phrase Two: hang out

Bowl, play pool and ping-pong, and hang out with your conversation partners and Language Assistants!

Hang out is a phrasal verb. It means to spend time in a fun, relaxing way. Usually, hang out is followed by the word with.

Example: A: Hey, what’s going on?
B: Not much. I’m hanging out with some friends. What’s going on with you?

Next Week—Football Game!

On Saturday, September 15th, the ELI will attend the University of Florida football game. If you want to attend, please buy a ticket from the CIP office in Matherly 211. Bring your Gator1 ID and $25 cash to purchase your ticket.
