Volunteer Day
Help others while helping yourself!

This Saturday, September 24th, we are holding our first Volunteer Day of the fall term. This is your chance to help out the community while practicing your English in a real-life environment. Below is a description of the volunteer activities going on this weekend.

We will meet at different times. Students, language assistants, teachers, and staff will meet and head to the different sites.

Please sign up on the Activities Board for your choice of activity by 4pm on Thursday, September 22nd.

There is no cost to volunteer. Wear comfortable clothes and sneakers. You should bring water to each volunteering activity.

Keep Alachua County Beautiful Gator Plunge: Work on various projects around the UF campus. Meet at the Plaza of the Americas in front of Library West at 8:15am.

Alachua County Humane Society: Help organize the thrift store. Have fun with your friends and language assistants! Meet at the Norman Garage at 10:15am. We will return around 1:00pm.

Project Downtown Gainesville-- Help serve lunch to the homeless and interact with English speakers from different cultures. We will meet at the Norman Garage at 12:30pm and return around 3:00pm.

North Florida Rehab Center: Play Bingo with elderly residents and practice your English at the same time! Meet at Norman Garage at 1:15pm. We will return around 4:00pm.

If you have any questions about any of the activities, see Raquel in the CIP Office, Room 318.

Crossing the Road

I’ve seen a few ELI students cross the roads at dangerous times. Please be very careful when crossing the road. According to the University Police Department, about 3 crashes a week involve a pedestrian. Always cross at the crosswalk and only when the light is green for you to walk and make sure to look both ways!!

Note from Daryl

Remember! If you would like to make an appointment to speak with Daryl, he will only be available Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays this term. Tuesday and Thursday he will be helping new students before they arrive.
The Next Trip

Next weekend, we will be going to Paynes Praire. Details about the trip will be on the Activities Board and in next week’s Weekly.

Manners and Culture

Q: I’m interested in manners about having meals. What should I not do when I am eating with Americans?

A: There are a few general guidelines, though.

1. Don’t make noises with your food. When eating soup, for example, don’t slurp. Just put the spoon in your mouth and eat quietly.
2. Talking during a meal is fine, but don’t talk with your mouth full. Wait until you swallow.
3. Don’t eat foods with your fingers that aren’t designed for it. Hamburgers and sandwiches and chips are fine, but most other foods (unless you are actually eating at a fast-food restaurant) should be eaten with utensils.
4. It’s okay to offer to share your food if you want to, but we generally don’t ask to try something that’s on someone else’s plate.
5. Don’t reach across someone else to get the salt, sugar, ketchup, etc. Say, “Could you please pass …?”
6. It’s fine to refuse a food if you can’t eat it—be it for dietary reasons or religious reasons or whatever. You don’t have to explain why. If your host asks, it’s rude of her/him.
7. Don’t burp at the table. While it’s considered a sign that the food was good in some cultures, to us, it’s very rude.

Q: Why do Americans sit on the tables where they eat?

A: It’s just not something that we really think about. It’s never really been something that we have had as a strong prohibition in our culture.

Grammar

Q: Which is correct for the negative shortened response form with “hope”: “I hope not,” or “I don’t hope so.”?

A: You’ve noticed that we’re not consistent. With “hope” the correct form is “I hope not.” However, for example, with “think”, it’s “I don’t think so.”

Q: If “plan” doubles the “n” in the past tense, why doesn’t “open”?

A: Actually, you’ve found one crazy spelling point in English that does have a pattern. In verbs of more than one syllable, we only double that last consonant when the stress falls on the last syllable. In “open” the stress falls on the “o”.

You’re only given a little spark of madness. You mustn’t lose it.
